ILLITERACY MOST SERIOUS PROBLEM

LAMKIN TELLS OF SOLDIERS' REHABILITATION WORK

BARNARD PICNIC ENDS

Crowds on Three Days Greater than Any Previous Celebration —No Thefts

Uel W. Lamkin, president-elect of the State Teachers' College, was a popular speaker at the last day of the Barnard picnic Saturday. Mr. Lamkin spoke on the rehabilitation of disabled American soldiers of the World War, the work in which he was engaged for two years prior to his acceptance of the presidency of the institution here.

Rehabilitation is taking the place of pensions and poorhouses for ex-service men, said Mr. Lamkin. The government is now attempting to do three things: hospitalize the wounded and invalid until they are able to earn a living, give them money compensation until they have learned a vocation and give them training for a life work.

The former director outlined five factors which he found influenced the work of rehabilitation. They were the subject's previous education, his life before the war and his experiences in the great combat, his disability, his ambitions and the problem of getting him employment after training.

Seven hundred thousand men in the first draft could not read or write, said Mr. Lamkin. Nearly one hundred thousand boys are now being trained by the government in two thousand colleges and eight thousand factories and shops.

It was to have a part in the great task of overcoming illiteracy that he left Washington, Mr. Lamkin said. He appealed for the cooperation of all residents of the county in building up the State Teachers' College urging parents to send their children to Maryville for training either for the teaching profession or for other lines of work.

Attorney Blagg also made a short address, and Charles H. Watts of Omaha, a former representative from Buchanan County in the Missouri Legislature of 1905, substituted for William Hirth, who was unable to attend the picnic. He spoke on "Cooperative Marketing of Farmers."

The crowd on the last day of the picnic was almost as large as that on Friday. More cars were parked about the grounds than on any of the three days. The combined attendance for the three days was the largest in the history of the picnic. No cars were stolen and the only articles reported missing were two lap-robes.

The baseball game played Saturday between Barnard and Bolckow resulted in a victory for Barnard, 13-2.

Chautauqua opened Saturday night with the pleasing news for the guarantors that Maryville had at last met its quota in the sale of season tickets. This came as a result of the meeting which was held after the afternoon program Saturday. Before the meeting it was estimated by Mr. Roseberry that there was a shortage of $215. The meeting Saturday afternoon showed that the guarantee would be met and from the figures of tickets today it was found that there is an excess of about $108.25. A check on the tickets showed 785 adult tickets sold this year and 142 children's tickets.

Today is one of the big days of Chautauqua, with Gov. Charles H. Brough this afternoon and Carmen Pascova, Florence Hardeman and Stewart Wille tonight. The former Arkansas governor occupied the full time this afternoon

RECEIVES COPY OF NEW HIGHWAY LAW

DR. JESSE MILLER HAS OFFICIAL WORDING.

NAMES COUNTY ROADS

State Highway Commission Selects Maryville on Three Gravel Roads.

Representative Jesse Miller received today several copies of the new highway law passed by the special session of the legislature, which recently adjourned. The law was approved by Governor Hyde on August 4.

The following is the section pertaining to what towns in Nodaway county the bound gravel roads will go through, the roads between these towns being selected by the state highway commission:

"Beginning at the Missouri-Iowa state line near Hopkins, thence south through Pickering, Maryville and Barnard, to the Nodaway-Andrew county line.

"Beginning at the Nodaway-Atchison county line, thence east and south through Burlington Junction to Maryville, connecting with the north and south state road.

"Beginning again on the north and south road, south of Maryville, thence easterly through Ravenwood to the Nodaway-Gentry county line."

Another section provides:

"Any state highway which passes through a municipality having a population of less than 2,500, according to the last United States census preceding such construction, shall be constructed through such municipality, and any highway which passes through a municipality having more than 2,500 population, according to such census, shall be constructed through the portions of the municipality where the houses abutting such roadway are not less than 200 feet apart on the average; provided, however, that in either case the state shall not pay for road surfacing wider or of a higher type of construction than the road as constructed up to the boundary of such municipality."

Another section provides for the commission to authorize uniform marking and guide boards on the state highways, and to cause to be removed all other markings and guide boards and advertising signs.

W. B. SCOTT SERIOUSLY ILL AT HOME NEAR MARYVILLE

Doctors Have Given Up Hope of His Recovery—Bedfast Since Last Week.

W. B. Scott, prominent farmer living four miles northwest of town, is very seriously ill. Suffering from a chronic trouble for several years, he became bedfast the latter part of last week and since then he has developed a dangerous affection of the stomach. Attending physicians fear that Mr. Scott is beyond hope of recovery.

Mr. Scott's son, Walter Soett of Brush, Colo, arrived home last Saturday; a daughter, Mrs. Leslie Giffen of Cadiz, Ohio, reached her father's bedside this morning; and a sister, Mrs. H. A. Sawyers of St. Joseph, came to Maryville last night. All of the immediate members of the family are now in daily attendance at Mr. Scott's bedside.

RED LIGHT WARNS DRIVERS AT CORNER FIRST AND MAIN

Had Been Decided a Bad Place by Officers—Two Others to be Erected Soon.

The city officials erected and had ready for use Saturday night a red light danger signal in the center of the intersection of First and Main streets. This has been deemed a bad corner by the authorities for some time and the light was placed in time to guide the crowds which come from the Chautauqua this week. Two other similar light posts will be erected, one on the corner near the Christian church and one at the intersection of Third and Market streets.

PAY FOR WATER OR DO WITHOUT, SAYS THE MAYOR

Users Thirty Days in Arrears Will be Denied Service Until Bill is Settled

Pay your water bill at once or the water will be shut off, says a warning issued today by Mayor Robinson. The notice is published elsewhere in this issue.

In his notice, Mayor Robinson says:

"The manager will on August 11 shut off the water from every service that is thirty days in arrears and will not turn it on again till the bill is paid, with a penalty added to cover costs of shutting off and turning on the water."

RUSSELL LAUGHLIN FUNERAL RITES ATTENDED BY 3,000

Services Held at Bethel Church Yesterday. Seth Ray David Post Assisted.

Three thousand persons attended the funeral of private Russel Laughlin, who died overseas while in service in the World War, which was held at 11 o'clock yesterday at the Bethel church, five miles east of Guilford. The Rev. V. D. Swearingen had charge of the services at the church and the Seth Ray David Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and members of the James Edward Gray post of American legion of Maryville, took charge at the cemetery.

Dr. R. C. Person acted as chaplain at the grave. A firing from Stanberry assisted the military organizations in the burial rites. About twelve members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion posts from Maryville drove to Guilford for the funeral.

TRUMPET BELONGING TO WEATHERWAXES IS GONE

Disappears From the Hotel Linville Sometime Last Night—Not Missed Until this Morning

Sometime after 11 o'clock last night one of the trumpets belonging to the Weatherwax Brothers Quartet disappeared from the Hotel Linville lobby. The trumpet was of special make and was in E flat. According to one of the quartet it will be impossible to duplicate the instrument without several days delay and the loss will greatly hamper the quartet in their concerts until it can be replaced.

At first it was thought that possibly it had been taken to one of the depots by mistake but investigations proved that this was not so. The trumpet was not missed until about 10 o'clock this morning when the members were gathering their belongings preparatory to departure on the 10:45 o'clock train.

FACTS FOR PATRONS OF CITY WATER DEPT.

The city water plant is owned by the people of Maryville.

The manager is employed by the people, and expected by them to keep their plant on a paying basis, and keep them supplied with water.

It costs a lot of money each month, to purify and pump the water, and keep the plant in running order.

All this expense must be paid the first of each month by the manager out of water department funds.

At the present rates charged for water, the total income of the plant is required each month to meet these expenses.

If you don't pay your bills promptly, we can't pay ours.

If we don't pay our bills we can't keep the plant going.

If we don't keep the plant going, we can't furnish you water.

If we don't furnish you water, or if we run the plant into debt, the manager will get cussed.

The city ordinances provide that if you don't pay your bills promptly your water service may be shut off.

If the manager shuts off your water service, you will get sore and cuss the manager.

The manager prefers to be cussed on that score, rather than for failure to keep the plant running, and out of debt.

Therefore, the manager will, on August 11, shut off the water from every service that is 30 days in arrears, and will not turn it on again till the bill is paid, with a penalty added to cover costs of shutting off and turning on the water.

Very few people have paid their August first bills, and a lot o f them forgot their July first bills.

HAVE YOU PAID YOURS?

F. P. ROBINSON, Manager.

JUNCTIONITES GET BASEBALL REVENGE

BOOSTERS OVERWHELM CLEARMONT BY 24-4 SCORE.

HOPKINS BEATS WILCOX

Errors in First Inning Let in Three Runs—Tobin Was Out of the Game.

Dope was completely upset yesterday when the Wilcox baseball team lost to Hopkins at Wilcox and Burlington Junction won from Clearmont at Burlington Junction. The score of the first game was 7-4 and of the second, 24-4.

In the Wilcox-Hopkins game, Wilcox got a bad start, making two errors in the first inning and letting Hopkins score three times. However, they retaliated in their half with the same number of tallies.

Wilcox was handicapped by the absence of Tommy Tobin, star catcher. He sprained his ankle at Barnard Friday and was not in condition. Paul Buhler and Loren Egley were the only Maryville men in the game. Bill Brennan, who lives near Maryville also played.

The batteries were: Wilcox, Lehman-Booth-Eckhouse. Hopkins, Cunning and Carmichael.

The Clearmont- Junction game started as though it would be very close. Neither team scored in the first inning and at the end of the fourth the score was 5 to 3 in favor of the Junction.

In the fifth frame Buhler pitcher a "spitter" to the first man up, who connected with it for a line drive toward third. Kelly made a stab at it but it was coming so fast that it broke one of his knuckles. He picked it up and threw toward first. The ball was very slick and the throw went ten feet over first and broke the windshield of a car in the background. This seemed to demoralize the Clearmont players and the whole team blew up. Before the inning was up Burlington Junction had scored 16 runs.

In the next inning Turner, who was catching for Clearmont, traded with Buhler who went behind the bat. The first ball pitched was close and the batter swung his bat back and struck Buhler on the middle finger of his right hand, breaking the bone.

The rest of the game was a poor exhibition. The final score was 24 to 4.

The batteries were: Clearmont, Buhler and Turner; Burlington Junction, Hughes and Hagey.

The Parnell Merchants beat the Ravenwood Comets yesterday afternoon 10 to 1 in the baseball game played at Ravenwood. Ravenwood had the same team yesterday that Maryville White Stars defeated a week ago yesterday 7 to 8. Parnell had a battery from St. Joseph consisting of F. R. Farley, pitcher and Lesey Cooper. Ross and Fisher were the battery for Ravenwood.

The Parnell Merchants will play the Kansas City Allies this afternoon at Parnell. Parnell will have the same battery as it had yesterday.

The Kansas City Allies defeated Sheridan yesterday afternoon by a score of 7 to 4. The game was played at Sheridan.

The Maryville White Stars defeated Bolckow on the latter's grounds yesterday, 6-5.

WILLIAM SOLOMON ARRAIGNED BEFORE JUDGE W. L. JOHNSON

His trial was set for August 15 and his bond fixed at $2,000. Solomon was unable to give bond this morning, and is being held in jail.

O'BRIEN PLEASES CHAUTAUQUA GOERS

OPEN FORUM CONDUCTOR HAS VAST FUND OF INFORMATION

HIS POLITICS A MYSTERY

Discussion is Non-Partisan but Earnest—Weatherwax Brothers Quartet is Popular.

A human encyclopedia was Quin O'Brien, who spoke at Chautauqua Saturday night.

What is the Einstein theory? The Fordney Tariff Bill? Main Street? The Non-Partisan League of North Dakota?Will there be another war? These are some of the questions hurled at the conductor of the open forum, and to all of them he gave the same intelligent, non-partisan discussion.

Mr. O'Brien exhibited a vast fund of information on all phases of human activity, with an especially close acquaintanceship with world history as it is being made day by day. He interpreted recent events as an American and a Christian,without being a partisan or a sectarian. While his discussions were fair, he revealed earnest convictions on questions of policy, urging them with sincere vigor.

The audience had been invited to suggest topics for the speaker to discuss, and they responded promptly. The questions were as follows:

What is the story of "Main Street" and why is the book so popular?

What is the Einstein theory of relativity?

What are the provisions of the Fordney Tariff Bill?

What about the Non-Partisan League of North Dakota?

Immigration.

The negro question.

Labor unrest.

Disarmament and the Japanese question.

In all his discussion, the speaker showed little sympathy for socialistic doctrines. He branded "Main Street" as an unfair picture of the life of the American village, written by a socialist and with insidious propaganda interwoven with bits of fine writing. He was bitter in his arraignment of the Non-Partisan League of North Dakota and its Socialist leader, A. C. Townley.

Although he discussed questions which were political issues last fall, Attorney O'Brien defied his audience to tell his politics. Republicans and Democrats alike were alternately pleased and indignant at his statements. Of the Fordney Tariff bill, he said:

"I see no use of the Fordney tariff, unless it is a move to pay off some of the big men who contributed to the campaign chest last year."

H eurged America's entrance into the League of Nations, but only on

SHIP STRIKES REEF; FORTY-EIGHT DEAD

STEAMSHIP ALASKA GOES DOWN OF ENORBORN, CAL.

CAPTAIN HOBBY A HERO

Courageous Officer Goes Down With His Ship After All Passengers Are Removed.

Eureka, Cal., Aug. 8.—Again has the rock studded and the fog clouded coast of Norborn, Cal., taken heavy toll of life. And again has an epic of sea heroism been written in the annals of the Pacific.

Today, when the horrors of Saturday night, when the Steamship Alaska hit treacherous Blunt's Reef, slid off its shroud as if in mortal agony and then plunged beneath the cold waters of the North Pacific. Humboldt County coast has added to her already long list a fresh harvest of possibly forty-eight lives. Seventeen now dead are in the morgues here today, with thirty-one missing and believed dead. Today's search for bodies of dead was in progress.

Hundreds watched along the rocky shores of Cape Mendocino for the sea to give up its dead. Off Blunt's Reef, five miles from the shore a half dozen small crafts scoured the ocean's surface for bodies.

Written brightest in the high lights of disaster the names of Captain Henry Hobey of the Alaska, Mrs. Grace Campbell, stewardess of the same ship, and Captain Snoddy, of the rescue ship, Anyox. Passengers and crew are awesomely repeating the words of Captain Hobey as he mounted the Alsaka's bridge soon after the ship struck.

"I'm going down with my ship, but if you do as I tell you, no one will go down with it but me," he shouted. He went down with the ship.

No less courageous was the conduct of Sewardess Campbell. Women and children were conducted to the lifeboats by her. Tiny children, distracted women, and those infirm by age, owe their lives to her supervision.

Himself in danger from the dense fog in which the Alaska went to her fate, Captain Snoddy of the Anyox performed a miracle in reaching the scene of the wreck and taking from the oil and wreckage strewn waters 166 souls. All the boats and rafts launched by the Alaska and many snuggling men and women in the water were hauled to safety.

The Alaska struck the reef bow-on, in a dense fog, according to the survivors, and immediately began to list. The work of launching the lifeboats was accomplished without delay or disorder. Three of the boats successfully rode the waves, but the fourth boat capsized and precipitated its occupants into the sea. The greatest loss of life, the survivors said, resulted from this mishap.

A few who wore life belts succeeded in keeping afloat until the boats of the Anyox picked them up.

Captain Hobey, when the last of the life boats had been sent over the side of the rapidly filling Alaska, went to the stern of his vessel and he was seen there when it started its plunge to the bottom.

Within an hour the Anyox arrived at the wreck, and with order that won

Famous Singer's Pet Hobby Is To Teach A Parrot To Sing Opera

"My pet hobby," says Miss Carmen Pascova, the attractive mezzo-soprano of the Chicago Opera Association, who will sing tonight at Chautauqua, after being the guest of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce at its weekly luncheon at the Bainum Hotel, "is to teach a parrot to sing grand opera, I know it can be done and I am going to do it some day, just as sure as I am born. I have had quite a number of heated discussions with bird experts and they are all inclined to ridicule the idea. However, I am still firm in my opinion.

"Have you ever given the thing a trial?" asked the reporter.

"Well I should say I have", returned the pretty diva with a most charming smile. "I have tried it many times, without much success, I am sorry to have to confess.

"The nearest I ever came to accomplishing my desire was while living at home, in Melbourne, Australia just before the war. I had the great good fortune, at least I thought so at the time, to secure a very intelligent bird with a high, clear, almost-human voice, through a relative who bought it from a sailor. And, after working with the little green fellow for nearly six months I succeeded in getting him to follow me, in duet, in a most astounding manner.

"Of course, all of my friends knew of my parrot-pupil and they were continually asking for the date of his debut, as a concert artist. And, quite naturally, they were inclined to be facetious.

"Finally I decided that the parrot was ready to sing in public and I arranged the quaint musicale to take place in the music room of our residence on the afternoon of my sister's birthday.

"To say the unusual affair created a sensation would be putting it mild, I had hundreds of requests for invitations. Even the important music critics came; two of them without invitations.

"Our home, which is quite large, was crowded to the doors and when Polly and I made our grand entry we were enthusiastically received. And to my astonishment and pleasure the parrot seemed to thoroughly understand and appreciate the applause. There was not the slightest trace of stage-fright in Polly. In fact, he conducted himself much in the fashion of a pompus old time concert star.

"We opened our program with a short Russian folk song which was a great success. Polly screamed loudly in two or three places, apparently at our accompanist, but on the whole we got through in fine style.

"Just as we were about to begin our second number, a gentleman in the audience spoke to me in Italian. At the first sound of the man's voice the parrot quickly turned and after carefully studying the speaker's face for several seconds, the bird started the most awful torrent of English and Italian profanty anyone ever heard. For an instant I was too shocked to say or do anything. As soon, however, as I realized what the little imp was saying I hustled him back to his cage which the maid quickly transported to the basement. And, as the silly bird continued to use bad language from that day on I was forced to give him away.

"Later I found that the parrot had made many voyages on a tramp Italian steamer. Fortunately for me, I started on a concert tour two days later and when I returned, thank Goodness, the incident had almost been forgotten. Nevertheless, I still hear of it, once in a while.

"The head bird keeper in Central Park now has a remarkable parrot and when I return to New York next season, I'll take it in hand. Even if this fellow does turn out right I am well aware that, in all probability, I'll not be able to get him into either the Chicago or Metropolitan grand opera companies but, I'll wager anything that he will be what you call a "head-liner", in vaudeville, at least." concluded the beautiful singer.

"DARK WOMAN" IS SOUGHT IN MYSTERIOUS SLAYING

Minister's Son Makes Startling Disclosures in Investigation of Millionaires' Murder.

Los Angeles, Aug. 8.—Startling disclosures that add fresh mystery to the slaying of Beldon Kennedy, millionaire insurance man, were made today by Arthur Courtney Burch, son of the Rev. William A. Burch of Evanston, Ill.

Burch admitted that Mrs. Madelynne Obenchain, now under custody as the material witness in the murder, visited him at a hotel directly across from the slain man's office. He denied improper relations and said that he knew nothing of the man's death. He admitted mailing $35 to Mrs. Obenchain at the jail.

Meanwhile the sheriff continues to search for the mysterious "Dark Woman" who is said to have visited Burch at the Hotel.

Mrs. Obenchain today told a graphic story of her love for Kennedy. She said she and Burch were only good friends.

LOSS OF WARDROBE MAKES NO DIFFERENCE TO KEIGHLEY

Star of "Broadway Jones" Makes Appearance Despite Cleaner's Failure.

It was March 6, 1921—the day of the Chicago opening of the "Just Suppose" company—fresh from a briliant record on Broadway.

His mind free—the day to spend—off to accept the kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Quinn O'Brien at their charming home for dinner.

Quarter to eight at the theatre—aghast!— The suit not there! A search—a hurried trip to the tailor's—no luck—establishment locked and proprietor miles away!

8:10 P. M. and curtain to ring up at 8:30 on the Chicago opening— and no clothes to wear!

Twenty minutes later out he goes dressed in scanty dinner jacket—borrowed from Mr. Kerr, a big black vest, Mr. Howard and some odd trousers of his own— ill fitting, ill matched! But the critics were so held by his acting they never even noticed!

The praises in the next day's papers were the usual tributes to his acting!

"In the future," remarked Mr. Keighley afterward, "I trust I will have the opportunity to add on the program—

Produce Letter.

The butter market has shown some weakness during the latter part of this week, resulting in definitely lower prices at the close. This is due to a slight falling off in the demand and the fact that production is keeping up remarkably well, considering the season.

Poultry receipts are increasing and prices are generally unchanged. As spring chickens reach the marketing age, the movement will undoubtedly increase, resulting in some decline in buying and selling values.

Receipts of fresh eggs are about normal for this season of the year, with quality generally reported as improving and prices ruling a little higher than previous week.

the basis of equal representation with Great Britian. He commended the recent act to restrict immigration, and of the Japanese he said, "A Japanese has no more place in the United States than a cinder in a man's eye."

Mr. O'Brien scored big manufactures for starting the open shop movement, which he declared will bring labor troubles to a crisis this winter. He touched only supeficially on the negro question, declaring that it was a mistake to grant them the ballot after the Civil War, and seeing the solution of the problem in the proper kind of education of both whites and negroes.

Mr. O'Brien confessed his inability to explain the Einstein theory, saying the scientist himself had been unable to give a satisfactory explanation.

The Weatherwax Brothers' quartet who gave the concert yesterday afternoon at the Chautauqua and the prelude last night, were very entertaining. They held their audience well and rendered a very interesting program.

The afternoon concert was a mixture of religious, character and humorous selections. The quartet led the audience in several religious hymns in the vesper service which was held at an intermission in their program.

In the evening the prelude was composed mostly of character songs and recitations. "That Old Sweetheart of Mine" a reading with musical accompniment was the most interesting feature of the day.

The trumpet selections given by the four brothers were also very pleasing and were well given.

POLAND-CHINA BREEDERS PLAN A TWO-DAY PICNIC

County Breeders Association Also Decide to Enter Best Hogs at International Show.

The fourteen members of the Nodaway County Poland-China Breeders' Association who met in the Farm Bureau office Saturday afternoon arranged for a two days' picnic and tour of Nodaway county which they expect to have either the last part of August or the first weeks of September. They appointed a committee to pick out ninety head of the best pure bred barrows of the county, which they will feed and exhibit at the International Live Stock Show, which will be held in Chicago some time in December.

It was left in the hands of County Agent R. A. Kinnaird and F. L. Garrett, secretary of the Standard Poland-China Record Association, to arrange the two days' picnic and tour of Nodaway county, at which time they will visit all the breeders of pure bred hogs. This will probably be held in September, at which time it is planned to have a number of good speakers to talk on the subject of pure bred stock. They plan to have motor trips both days to visit the different herds of the county and to serve a banquet each day at noon. They have not yet planned at which towns these banquets will be served.

The officers of the Nodaway County Breeders' Association which were elected Saturday to serve for the coming year were: President, G. M. McNeil of Graham; vice-president, O. J. Willhoyte and secretary and treasurer, F. L. Garrett of Maryville.

The association was organized in July and has a membership of thirty persons. The members who were present Saturday were: A. L. Auer, Maryville; Joe Auer, Conception Junction; Robert Gallagher, R. E. ## SHIP STRIKES REEF; FORTY-EIGHT DEAD high praise from the survivors, the crew of the Anyox speedily picked up those who were drifting in life preservers or in lifeboats.

Through the night other ships joined in the rescue work.

Praise was mutually extended between members of the crew and passengers in their stories today of the scenes following the crash of the Alaska. Despite isolating terror of the ship being enveloped in fog as the swells dashed against it and threw spray from the jagged rocks of the reef, calmness prevailed among the passengers and crew.

It was a short time, a scanty thirty minutes, between the striking on the rock and the sinking of the vessel, but without signs of disorder the passengers were helped into the life boats under calm direction of officers and crew, and they were lowered into the water.

Captain Hobey's heroic action was such a thrilling example that several men passengers stayed by him, and the women and children were taken first into the boats.

The vessel finally listed, and then, righting itself, suddenly plunged downward.

One of the sad touches of the wreck was the scene on the Anyox following the rescue of little Irene Dyer of La Grande, Ore. After she had been floating on wreckage for some eight hours and then brought on the Anyox she plaintively asked for her daddy and mother.

W. H. Dyer, the father, was found on board, but there were none who has seen the mother. The father was injured and the sorrowing little girl choked back her sobs as she sought to aid her daddy.

Four-year-old Betty Sanders of Garfield, Wash., girded with a big life belt, was tossed about on the oil coated sea for seven hours and was picked up by rescuers at daylight this morning.

GOVERNOR BROUGH ON SECOND VISIT

Both Governor and Mrs. Brough and Miss Pascova will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at its weekly luncheon at the Bainum Hotel this evening.

Governor Brough is now national president of the United States Good Roads Association. He is also publicity director of the state organization of Arkansas Chambers of Commerce. He was for twelve years a professor in the University of Arkansas and served two terms as governor of the state. For his second term he was elected without Republican opposition, the only governor who has ever had that distinction in Arkansas. His term expired January 12.

The governor received the degree of doctor of philosophy from Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore, where he was a student under Woodrow Wilson. He has four other honorary degrees from various schools.

Governor Brough organized the first Woodrow Wilson for President Club in the nited States. It was formed under his direction at the University of Arkansas, October 11, 1911, nine months before his nomination for the presidency.

Mrs. Brough, a native of Kentucky, is accompanying the governor on his speaking tour. Both are guests of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Keller until tomorrow morning, when they will leave on the Wabash at 10:45 o'clock. The visiting statesman and educator was formerly one of the instructors of both Dr. and Mrs. Keller when they attended the University of Arkansas.

"Dr. Keller, while a student in the University, made a most brilliant record in political economy, history and pedagogy," said Governor Brough of his host and former pupil. "Mrs. Keller, who was Miss Julia Lucas, a Missouri girl who moved to Arkansas, also made a splendid record. I taught thirteen thousand young men and young women, and Dr. Keller is easily one of the most brilliant. Mrs. Keller also made a brilliant record."

The Governor has been very sick since he left the executive chair. Last week was the first in which he has been able to fill his Chautauqua engagements. He has thirty-five more engagements in Missouri. He has completely recovered now and is enjoying his Chautauqua tour.

Governor Brough is a very good friend of Dr. Frank Vinsonhaler, a native Nodaway countian, who is now one of the leading specialists in Little Rock. Mr. Vinsonhaler was born and reared in Maryville. He was a major in the medical corps and saw service overseas during the World War.

Gustave Jones of Newport, a leading attorney of Eastern Arkansas, is another Nodaway county man with whom Governor Brough is intimately acquainted.

This is Governor Brough's second visit to Maryville and Nodaway county. The Arkansas Profitable Farming Bureau each year sends about 150 representative business men of the state on a tour through the Middle West to study conditions in the agricultural districts. Governor Brough headed the party two years ago that visited the fine livestock herds of this county.

More purebred Shorthorn cattle on Arkansas farms have been bought from Bellows Brothers at Maryville than from any other livestock farm in the United States, the governor declared. He again visited the Bellows farm and some of the business houses of Maryville this morning. He was the guest of G. B. Roseberry in a party which also included Miss Pascova and other Chautauqua folk.

Tomorrow morning there will be one of the two morning lectures of the week. Harry Webb Farrington, former football star of Syracuse, former soldier, former Harvard professor, brings a rich hour of poetry and inspiration in his lecture on "Modern Literature."

Ranking with Alan Seeger's "Rendezvous," John McCrae's "Flander's Fields," and Robert Service's "Carry On," is Farrington's "Rough and Brown."

"There walks the Son of God today,
Along his world's last battle line;
Men see him as they stop to pray,
And find him human though divine:
His saddened eye is shining bright,
His robe though torn is clean and white;
But men thank God that he sent down
A Son, whose hands were rough and brown."

In the afternoon, David D. Vaughan will lecture on "The Present Social Unrest—What? Why?"

Dr. Vaughan lived and worked for seven years among the grimy folk who do all the tasks you and I wouldn't do. He discusses from first hand observation, tempered by a kind heart and a study of history and economics, some phases of America's greatest problem—the Americanization of the large groups of foreigners congested about our big industries, and given no chance really to glimpse America's great opportunities.

Tomorrow night will be "Broadway Jones," probably the only Chautauqua attraction that could compete successfully with the Sells-Floto circus. It is George Cohan's funniest comedy, with which he ripped open the sides of Broadway-ites for two years. It is brought west with all its laughs intact by William Keighley and nine Broadway players.

"The best American farce of the season if not of the last decade," said the New York Morning Sun.

"Broadway Jones" is a big hit of laughter," said the New York Times. For the general public it is great. The best feature of Broadway Jones will be found in the fact that it keeps them laughing all the time, laughing for the most part frankly, unreservedly and hilariously.

And the New York Tribune added: Broadway Jones is a "success." There is not place to hear sterling spontaneous American enthusiasm outside of a baseball field, except in a Geo. Mr. Cohan play. Broadway Jones is a farce comedy of an exuberant American kind. . . Snap, exurberance and the most piquant native comedy punctuate Broadway Jones with sparks something in the way of wireless apparatus. Geo. M. Cohan's new play Broadway Jones reflects the spirit after which it is named.

MANY HEAR SERMON OF THE REV. HOMER A. NEFF

Visiting Minister, Son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. C. Neff, Preaches on "Faith."

The Rev. Homer A. Neff, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of St. Marys, Ohio, preached before a large congregation of members of the Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopal churches in the Presbyterian church at the morning services yesterday. A large number of people, not members of the two churches, but former neighbors and friends of Mr. Neff, when he lived on a farm with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. C. Neff, northwest of Maryville were also out to hear him.

The Rev. Mr. Neff was for three years a classmate of the Rev. S. P. Allison, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church, who is now spending his vacation in the East.

Yesterday morning's sermon was taken from the "faith chapter" of the Bible. The speaker, using the instance of the calling of Abraham by God to go into an unknown country to erect a house for his Lord, as a text, developed his subject along three lines.

First, the fact that Abraham was called of God and that he answered the call. There comes to every individual the call and God leaves it with each to accept or reject such call, the minister said. The chance is given to all and all should follow the lead of Abraham.

Second, Abraham was called—"not knowing whither he was going." The Rev. Mr. Neff emphasized the thought that no one who anwer the call of his Heavenly Father knows exactly where he will be led, for he cannot look into the future and see the hardships and burdens, the joys and rewards, that may come his way. Herein lies the place in life that faith in the leader, Christ, must be shown. "What matter it," said the speaker, "what is before us, so long as we know that He leads us?"

Third, it was brought out that Abraham was forced to forsake the security of his native land and its temporal blessing and go to a strange country, there to start life all over again—without his friends around him and without his former earthly riches. Here, again, it was shown the temporal blessings are nothing as compared with the riches which come to the worker in the spiritual realm. Abraham's reward was his "house built of God."

SPANISH BLUE BLOODS WILL PERFORM ON WIRE TUESDAY

Aerialists and Dancers for Circus Have Tradition of Four Generations Behind Them.

Four generations of circus stars!

That 's the famous Codona family aerialists and wire dancers, with the Sells-Floto circus, coming to Maryville tomorrow, Tuesday, August 9.

The best known circus act in all the world—the Codonas are known as the blue bloodest, most aristocratic white top folks living, and that does not mean that they are exclusive, "stuck-up" or anything of the sort.

It means that the Codonas have that upon which family pride and true aristocracy must stand—tradition. They have the tradition of four generations of honorable and artistic achievement. They have kept their name bright in the annals of the big top. They are Spanish.

There are five in the family. One of the sisters—Victoria—is a wonderful wire dancer, and she is very pretty. In fact, the whole family is very restful to the eye. The girls are exceedingly well educated and all speak three or four languages. They have circled the globe several times. Alfredo, the flyer of the troupe, is the only aerialist living who does a triple somersault in mid-air to a hand-to-hand catch. Look for him circus day.

M. U. ROUNDUP AT SEDALIA.

Continuous Reunion in the Missouri University Building.

Prophetic of the ultimate service of the building itself, a large oil painting of the proposed Missouri Memorial Union Building marks the rallying place of all students, alumni, and former students of the University of Missouri at Sedalia this week and next. The picture is hung within the University building near the west gate of the state fair grounds and will serve as a guide to hundreds of visitors seeking a reunion with classmates and friends whom they knew in their school days at the State University.

Throughout the entire season of the Missouri State Fair and Centennial the booth directly below the big picture will be maintained as student and alumni headquarters. J. M. McCann, president of the student body will be in charge, with the assistance of representative alumni and former students. Their purpose will be to make the booth beneath the big picture the scene of a continuous reunion and a large factor in the pleasure of all fair visitors who have in any way been connected with the University of Missouri.

To all citizens of Missouri the picture of the Missouri Memorial Union Building exhibited at the Missouri State Fair will be intensely interesting; depicting as it does the magnificent $500,000 structure with which students, alumni and former students propose to commemorate the heroism of sixty-two students of the University who gave their lives in the World War. The names of these sixty-two men will appear below the picture of the proposed memorial.

The subscriptions toward this enterprise already exceed $300,000 and practically insure the early erection of this building to serve through the years to come as a war memorial and as a rallying place for Missouri University students, former students and alumni.
